Special contracts will be made with yearly ad-Kosciusko's Will. Among the records of the clerk's office of the Circuit Court of this county there is a document which, from the notable position which the parties connected with it have held in the history of our ocustry, is of interest. The document in question is the will of Thaddeus Kosciusko, the Polish patriot, the friend of liberty and of Jefferson. In offering this ancient paper to the perusal of our readers it may not be icappropriate to give a brief sketch of the life of its noble author. Thaddens Kossiusko was born in the Grand Duchy of Silliciania in 1752. He was sprung of noble ancestors, and inherited a considerable estate. Early in life he cs. poused the cause of civil liberty, and one of the first acts of his manhood was to break the fetters of his own serfs. After the partition of Poland, in 1772, he retired to Paris and sought in her schools a military education. It was here that his attention was first directed to America, and the struggle in which the colonies were then engaged against the mother country, offered a wide field of usefulness to his liberty loving heart. He arrived in this country in 1776, and in the same year was appointed by the Colonial Congress a Colonel of Engineers. His services in the cause of liberty were signal and valuable. He was ever selected for the most dangerous and difficult work, and besides planning the fertifications of various other important forts, the works at West Point were designed by him and built under his personal supervision. As a memorial of the valuable services rendered in this case, the cadets at West Point have creeted a status to him within the fortifications. In 1783, as a reward for his great services. Congress bestow ed upon him the rank of Brigadier General and passed a vote declaratory of "their high sense of his faithful and meritorious conduc. Between Kosinsko and Mr. Jefferson there existed the warmest friendship and intimacy. He was a welcome guest at Monticello, where be spent some time, and the mutual love of these two great men for liberty and freedom, made their companionship highly congenial.

On the eye of his departure from this country in 1793 he made this will and left it in the possession of Mr. Jefferson. The ruling pession of his life, that of gain-ing for his fellow man liberry and freedom, is manifested clearly in this quaint instrument.

With the price of his services as a soldier in the American army, he had purchased Amerioan securities, and in these ou

It reads as follow:: "I, Thaddeus Kosciusko, being just in my departure from America, do hereby declare mentary disposition of my property in the Uni-ted States. I hereby author 2: my friend. Thomas Jefferson, to embloy the whole thereof in purchasing negroes from among his own or any others and giving them Liberty in my name, in giving them an education in trades or otherwise, and in having them instructed for their new condition in the duties of morality, which may make them good neighbors, good fathers or mothers, husbands or wives, and in their duties as citizens, teaching them to be defenders of their Liberty and Country and useful; and I make the said Thomas J.fferson Executor of this 5th day of May, 1798. "T. Kosciusco." At the bottom of the will is the usual memoracdum of its probate, as of the 12th day of May, 1819, and the memorandum also contains the statement that "Mr. Jefferson, the Excotor therein named, refuses to take upon himself the burthen of the execution of the said will-Teste, John Carr, C. C." In a letter to so eminent Frenchman, written about this time, Mr. Jefferson states that he is now "too old to undertake such an onerous duty, but is striving to have the philanthropic wishes of the donor discharged." The probate of the will gave occasion to a very interesting correspondence between Mr. J. and William Wirt, then Attorney General of the United States, as to where the will should be proved. It was decided that as Mr. J. held the evidences of the debts the Circuit Court of this county was the proper forum for its probate.

It nowhere appears whether the provisions of the will were carried out or not. Mr. Wm. Wertenbaker, the venerable Librarian of the University, was a clerk in the office of the Circuit Court at the time, and remembers the oreum. staces of the recordation of the will. What became of this property is not known; the securities may have been worthless, and it is highly probable that the philanthropic wishes of the donor were never carried out. Atter Kosciusko had assisted our forefathers to establish their Temple of Freedem he reprayely for her liberation, but failing in this ha re ired to Swirzerland, where he died in 1817. -Gordonsville Gazette.
